

Mother, tell me who you are you are someone I do not know

Are you remembering past summers another world you lived in

Mother, tell me who you are
you are someone I do not know

Your eyes are always sad It's like your living in a bad dream you tremble in fear you cry out in your sleep your soul is always in pain

Mother, tell me who you are
you are someone I do not know

are you remembering your past You never really smile Spring has never come to you Why do you feel no one loves you?

Mother, tell me who you are
you are someone I do not know

Mother
You have been a Beautiful stranger to me I love you whoever you are mother ... mother beautiful stranger I want you to know I love you whoever you are You are dying I want to know you before you die
"Son I was rape by a church of god preacher On Springfield Ave in Cambridge Maryland
When a was just a baby"
My mother died in Kent General Hospital Dover, DE

By Barry Wyatt